10 REASONS FUSION MELT BEATS OTHER ICE MELT PRODUCTS.

1. Less corrosive. Contains corrosion inhibitor CMA, and because less deicer is needed, less harmful effects occur.
2. Lasts longer. Fusion Melt continues working for up to 24 hours. Far longer than calcium chloride.
3. Saves you time and money. Fusion Melt is applied in smaller quantities and less frequently—saving you time and money!
4. Use less product. Fusion Melt is so effective you apply less product.
5. Safer for plants and vegetation.
6. Safer for pets and children.
7. Safer for surfaces.
8. Safer to handle.
9. Environmentally friendly formula.
10. Orange-colored pellets to visually ensure proper application.

WHAT SHOULD YOU EXPECT FOR THIS UPCOMING WINTER? LET'S CHECK OUT THE FORECAST!

If you enjoyed last winter, no matter what part of the country you are from, you should like the predictions for the 2015-2016 season. The Farmers' Almanac, which recently hit the store shelves, is calling for a repeat of last winter with "unseasonably cold conditions over the Atlantic Seaboard, eastern portions of the Great Lakes, and the lower peninsula of Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, most of the Tennessee and Mississippi Valley, as well as much of the Gulf Coast."

Let's Talk Snow!

The Almanac is calling for cold temperatures and "a good amount of snow" over the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic States. They have went so far as to "red-flag" "the second week of January and the second week of February for possible heavy winter weather with a long, drawn out spell of stormy weather extending through much of the first half of March."

"It's like Winter Déjà vu," states Editor Peter Geiger, adding "last year our bitterly cold, shivery forecasts came true in many states including the 23 eastern states that experienced one of their top-ten coldest Februarys on record. This year many of these same states may want to get a jump start now and stock up on lots of winter survival gear: sweaters, long johns, and plenty of firewood."
